

PHYSICIAN'S WEEKLY

Neurology Edition

Welcome to Physician's Weekly – Neurology Edition!

For more than 30 years, Physician's Weekly has been a trusted source of medical news for physicians in over 10,000 top hospitals, oncology centers, cath labs, and infectious disease, pulmonology, primary care and diabetes clinics through the United States. In the coming months, we are confident that you will see why!

Our features highlight some of the most influential medical literature today and will include trending topics on:

- Preventing & Managing Chemotherapy-Induced Peripheral Neuropathy
- An Update on Secondary Stroke Prevention
- American Academy of Neurology 2016 Conference Highlights
- Optimizing Migraine Care
- . . . and more!

We'll also provide useful links to further reading on various neurology-specific topics at www.physweekly.com.

Enclosed is the most recent issue of Physician's Weekly – Neurology Edition. Each month, you'll receive a new issue, including features based on interviews with key opinion leaders in the industry.

A complimentary wall hanger for this and future Physician's Weekly issues will arrive at your practice under separate cover. Our content is written specifically for healthcare professionals, so we ask that you place the hanger in an area where posters are easily accessible to clinicians only (clinicians' break room, records or dictation room, library, etc.).

We hope that you and your colleagues find this free service informative and useful. For comments and/or questions regarding delivery, address changes, or other service-related issues, please contact us via e-mail at service@physweekly.com or call 800.317.9139.
